British and Yankees Advance Again on North Bank of the Somme

HINDENBURG MAY BE FORCED TO RETREAT ON ENTIRE LINE

Will Be Unable to Resist Very Long on Present Lines, Declare Prisoners

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 12. (Night).—Von Hindenburg today is face to face with a poser. Can he maintain himself on his present lines or will he be forced to beat an undignified retreat along the lines over which the French and British pushed him in 1917? And can he hope ever to assume the offensive again or must he from now on act purely on the defensive?

Foch and Haig, by the battle of Amiens, plainly have given him a hard nut to crack. Prisoners just taken declared the Germans will be unable to resist further in their present positions. They declare the battle of the Marne had a demoralizing effect on the whole army while the entrance of the Americans "is regarded with dismay."

Haig's new blow has greatly added to this depression. The feeling is gradually spreading that Germany has finally finished her course. But Germany is not finished and undoubtedly will put up a stubborn fight for some time to come. Nobody here even intimates the war is over. Von Hindenburg, however, is clearly facing the probability of purely defensive warfare.

The fifth month of the present fighting season was near its end when Haig struck Thursday. German divisions in reserve on the whole west front were not over forty divisions (probably 48,000 men). Since Thursday some ten of these have been used. Two large salients remain to be held. The cost of holding them is huge as the Allied guns pound ceaselessly day and night, just as they pounded the old Somme lines, which became untenable. Owing to heavy losses which are dwindling their army, the Germans may find it necessary not only to remain on the defensive but to shorten their line in order to maintain a sufficient number of reserves to hold even this. In the meantime a comparative lull continues. British positions have been improved along the Somme. Elsewhere there is only local fighting.

RETREATING HUNS APPROACH THE OLD HINDENBURG LINE
By J. W. T. MASON
(United Press Staff Expert)
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The retreating Germans have now reached their final defenses west of the Somme which in its turn forms the last "Hindenburg line." The Germans are fighting desperately with their backs to the Somme south of Peronne. This situation requires that they move their heavy artillery across the river immediately or else risk its entire capture by the Allies if Field Marshal Haig moves his front forward with a sudden lunge.

The principal German resistance at present, therefore, west of the Somme, is rifle and machine gun fire. The artillery on the east bank of the Somme will become effective very shortly and may prevent General Foch from permitting a frontal attack on the Somme line in accordance with his policy of sparing lives as much as possible.

The British and French in fact are now beginning the development of a flanking operation against the Somme positions from the south. This is one of the purposes of the British advance toward Roye and the French movement in the direction of Noyon. If these two towns fall into possession of the Allies a slight advance northward will make a perfect pocket of the Somme positions and will compel the Germans to retire to the Hindenburg line.

This same flanking operation against the Somme from the south is beginning to menace the western flank of the Germans between the Vesle and the Chemin des Dames. Marshal Foch is here developing a double strategy. He is linking both the Picardy and the Champagne operations so that in reality the drive eastward from Montdidier shall form a single campaign with the drive northward from the Marne. Unity of purpose is thus coming into its full strategic value as a result of the Allies' unity of command.

RUSSIA IS COMING BACK INTO THE WAR

Little Chance for German Revolution Is Girl's Opinion

People There Still Think It's War of Defense, Says Miss Florence McAvoy

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Aug. 13.—A revolution in Germany is hardly probable, in the opinion today of Miss Florence McAvoy, who has just returned to America after several years in Germany. Miss McAvoy left Dresden March 23, when the first Hindenburg drive was at its height. The people were jubilant, she said. Although they got scant food and wear paper clothes, the Germans still think they are fighting a war of defense, Miss McAvoy declared. The working men who used to be poor now draw big pay in munition works and purchase delicacies the aristocracy cannot afford to touch.

GERMANS HAVE POW-WOW
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 13.—Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Minister von Hintz have gone to German great headquarters, it was learned today.

KERENSKY MAY BOLSHIEV END YET LEAD SLAV PEOPLES TO FREEDOM

Former Hero Will Go to Archangel Soon to Try to Assist New Government

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Kerensky, one time hero of the Russian revolution, is being groomed as the possible leader to draw out the Bolshevik and re-establish his country, it was indicated today. He is about to go to Archangel, it is learned authoritatively, to throw his weight with the new government of the northern provinces. Observers in some quarters expect this government to be extended under Kerensky to all of Russia.

It is doubtful, however, just how allied governments would take to Kerensky as the new Russian leader, although some groups in France, Britain and America are working in his favor.

Kerensky recently planned to come to America to enlist President Wilson's aid in restoring Russia, but preparations of the allies made this unnecessary, Russian officials here said today.

Reports charging Kerensky with being pro-German, Bolshevik and a friend of Lenin and Trotsky were stoutly denied by Russians here today. They declare Kerensky is trying to help build the anti-Bolshevik government in northern Russia, which is expected to replace the entire Lenin regime in Russia.

The latest proclamation of this government was received with interest in diplomatic circles. Coming at a time when Lenin appears about to totter finally, and along with reports that Kerensky plans to go to Archangel, this proclamation gave hope that at last a stable government in Russia was in sight. Some of Kerensky's friends are members of this new government and are along the conservative democratic lines which Kerensky has tried to carry out under the constitutional government.

Just who is leader in the new Archangel government is not clear but M. Suboff, assistant mayor of the city of Volodga and one of the signers of the new government proclamation, has been mentioned before this to the American government as a strong man.

Whether the growing strength of the new party has forced Lenin and Trotsky, Bolshevik leaders, to flee, as reported, is not known here. But even if they have fled it is considered unimportant as regards the future of the Bolshevik movement. There is a strong supposition in official circles that these two are not really the leaders of the Bolshevik at all, and while they have continued to pose as such leaders their only real function for some time has been to cover German agents.

Their departure would not kill or even seriously disorganize the Bolsheviks, officials here think.

EMPEROR KARL SEES LIVELY AIR BATTLE

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 13.—Italian and Austrian aviators recently engaged in an air battle over the Adige valley in which Emperor Karl was reviewing his troops, according to a Vienna dispatch received today. The emperor is said to have dismissed the troops and to have remained on the field with his staff until the battle was over.

IS NEAR: ALLY AID WILL BE WELCOMED

Anti-German Feeling Strong Now; People Eagerly Await America's Help

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 13.—German troops are marching on Petrograd, intending to occupy the city, according to the Helsingfors correspondent of the Politiken.

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Events are sweeping Russia back into the war. There is every reason to hope that next summer will bring restoration of the eastern front. The abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty may be expected any moment.

That the end of the Bolsheviks is near has been pointed out repeatedly in United Press despatches. I have never been so convinced of it as I am now. The big question was who would succeed them. Germany has felt the inevitable downfall of the Bolsheviks. The late Count Mirbach's principal work in Moscow was to prepare for the downfall of the Bolsheviks and the establishment of a government similar to that of Skoropadsky in the Ukraine. But Russia's passion for freedom and unity frustrated the schemes of Germany. There will be no Skoropadsky government in Moscow. The constituent assembly composed of an overwhelming majority of social revolutionists and socialists of the Menshevik group, are coming back into power. Their first act will be an announcement to the world that the shameful Brest-Litovsk treaty no longer exists, that the revolutionary democracy of Russia does not recognize it. An open invitation to the allied governments to send an army into Russia to help reorganize her military forces for a renewed fight on Germany will be made. The constituent assembly and a party of social revolutionists have already expressed themselves in no ambiguous terms on the matter. They are now waiting and working unceasingly to get back into power to make their action an official call to the allied governments in the name of the whole people of Russia.

The United States is the country most trusted of all the allies in Russia. American help is eagerly awaited. It will be embraced enthusiastically.

Bolshevism is dead. It is bankrupt. It cut its own throat when it signed the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty and when it broke, not so much with the bourgeoisie as with the revolutionary democracy itself. There may be unity and co-operation between the bourgeoisie and the bankrupt Bolshevik. There never can be any co-operation between the latter and the revolutionary democracy. And that means the vast majority of the people in Russia.

There is more anti-German feeling today than there ever was. The murder of Count Mirbach, the representative of German imperialism in Russia, was as symbolic of the downfall of the brief sway of Germany over Russia as was the assassination of Von Pleve of the inevitable downfall of czarism.

Russia is coming back into the war. She is coming back to fight for the establishment of a reunited republic of Russia and the democracy of the world may prepare to welcome her back into the fight.

REALTY DEALER IS UP FOR SENTENCE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 15.—Guy S. Garner, realty dealer, will come before Superior Judge Wood today for sentence following action by the court yesterday in finding Garner guilty of contempt. Garner is accused of taking money from Mrs. Ethel Le Bonto, arrested for a misdemeanor, on the representation that he could influence the court.

10,000 MACHINE GUNS, 1000 CANNON CAPTURED IN DRIVE; CLASH ON OLD BATTLE LINE

PARIS, Aug. 13. (10:16 a. m.)—German prisoners taken from Thursday to Sunday exceeds 37,000, of which 2300 are officers, Marcel Huton, military writer of the Echo de Paris declared today.

Huton said more than 1000 cannon and over 10,000 machine guns have been captured.

The total of enemy prisoners taken since July 18 is more than 70,000, Huton says.

PARIS, Aug. 13. (4:10 p. m.)—The Germans have been hurriedly removing enormous quantities of war material from Peronne during the past 48 hours, and enemy troops are crossing the Somme.

Roads about Peronne are reported to be crowded with German troops attempting to get this material back to a safer spot.

Huge ammunition dumps containing millions of shells, were abandoned by the enemy in his flight when the Picardy battle opened, and has been taken intact by the French, it was learned today.

The military critic of the Presse today declared that Lassigny has been enveloped by the French and possibly already has been captured.

LONDON, Aug. 13. (4:20 p. m.)—The evacuation of Roye is expected within 48 hours, according to information received here this afternoon. The Allies since the start of their offensive have gained between nine and ten miles on a forty-five mile front.

The fall of Lassigny, which is expected hourly, probably will force the Germans to retreat to the Somme canal line, and additional retirement of five to ten miles all along the front, according to information received here this afternoon.

(Undated War Lead by United Press)

Despite German resistance in Picardy the Allies last night pushed forward slightly on the left wing and in the center, improving their positions on the north bank of the Somme and north of the Roye road.

American troops who are co-operating with the British north of the Somme are facing the roughest terrain of the sector.

The Germans made a counter attack near Foquescourt, between Chaumes and Roye but were repulsed.

The Allies took additional prisoners and are now unofficially estimated to have captured more than 37,000 between the start of the drive and Sunday. In addition they are believed to have captured 1000 cannon and 10,000 machine guns.

Increasing activity in the Flanders region and around Arras was reported. An enemy attack was repulsed near Merris, while prisoners were taken in patrol encounters near Vieux-Berquin and south of the Scarpe river.

OLD BATTLE OF THE SOMME IS ON AGAIN

BY LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Aug. 12.—(Night).—The old battle of the Somme is on again.

The Germans are entrenched in the well worn lines, stubbornly holding on and even attempting to counter attack, although somewhat feebly.

The situation is the natural result of the necessity for bringing up additional French big guns. An artillery barrage today began to take the place of the heavy machine gun fire from the boches.

They are also using quantities of mustard gas.

Some idea of the speed of the French advance yesterday can be obtained by the experience of a general, one of whose regiments was held up by well placed machine guns. His automobile swept past by the men, using a depression at the roadside.

"You're going well," he cried. "The boches can't hold you any more. Come on."

Three hours later the regiment had advanced seven kilometers (four and a half miles.)

30 HOSTILE PLANES ARE DESTROYED DURING DRIVE

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Destruction of 30 hostile planes over the area of the Picardy drive and in Flanders was reported in today's British air ministry's communique. Ten others were reported destroyed, four by a bomb dropped on them as they rested on the ground and 25 more were driven down out of control.

Four hostile observation balloons were shot down in flames. Seven British aircraft are missing.

Bombing operations were carried on extensively by the British. Aerodromes and other ground targets were attacked with bombs and machine gun fire after hard fighting with protecting German flyers. The airplane and chemical works at Frankfort were bombed with good results.

Some crossings and railway stations at Peronne and Cambrai were bombed with good results.

Some crossings and railway stations at Peronne and Cambrai were steadily subjected to bombing attacks. The work of artillery observation balloons was maintained without interruption from the British side of the lines, it was stated.

ENEMY RAIDS UNSUCCESSFUL

PARIS, Aug. 13.—"There was no important development during the night," the French war office announced today. "In the Vosges and upper Alsace enemy raids were unsuccessful."

FRENCH DRIVING TO FLANK ROYE, LASSIGNY AND RIBECOURT

Pressure Forces Germans to Abandon Some of Ribecourt Defenses Today

LONDON, Aug. 13. (1:15 p. m.)—The Germans, as the result of French pressure, are evacuating the southern defenses of Ribecourt, it was learned this afternoon.

The enemy retired from their trenches on a front of nearly three miles, extending from the Oise at a point about a mile southwest of Ribecourt to a point west of Bailly (two miles southeast of Ribecourt).

The French occupied the deserted positions.

LONDON, Aug. 13. (1:26 p. m.)—The French are driving forward in an effort to flank Roye, Lassigny and Ribecourt, it was learned this afternoon.

Roye is being pressed closely from the west and south and the French appear already to be commanding it. The communications artillery fire from the town are under attack. After capturing Les Loges wood, the important defensive point between Roye and Lassigny, the French progressed and took the wood to the eastward.

French troops have captured L'Ecouvillon (midway between Lassigny and Ribecourt) and have gained ground north of St. Claude farm.

The Germans are withdrawing additional troops from the battle line. Extension of the flanks is known to have greatly aided in exhausting their reserves. There are now thirty-three enemy divisions (probably 396,000 men) on the battlefield.

On the Aisne-Vesle front French and American troops by strong counter attacks regained positions they had lost temporarily near Fismette.

The French now have almost reached the crest of the Lassigny height. A few Germans remained on the highest point.

BULLETINS

SUBMARINE PARTS FOUND ON DOCKS AT NEW YORK

SPAIN MAY JOIN RANKS OF THE ALLIES SOON

LONDON, Aug. 13.—That a break between Spain and Germany is likely was reported here this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Reports that Spain may be about to break with Germany were received here with undisguised interest today.

Confidential reports here have long indicated that Spain has been on the fence, awaiting developments. There is a strong pro-German element in the country, particularly in the army, but reports show this element has been greatly tempered by the thinking classes of Spain.

SELECT MEN TO ENTRAIN FROM HERE AUG. 26 CAMP LEWIS

Four Men of This District Volunteered For Service In Tank Corps

The names of the twelve men tentatively listed to go to Camp Lewis on or about August 26 were announced at the local exemption board headquarters today as follows:

Floyd Holly Mitchell, 627 Garfield; Henry Joseph Maag, Peralta; Charles V. Hewett, Harper; Albert Mensenkamp, Orange R. D. 2; Magnus W. Tait, El Toro; Julian Allec, Placentia; Charles Herbert Shaw, 917 East Pine; Earl Tuttle Cook, 630 North Ross; Frank Elliott, 1224 East Third; Paul Lopez, 1034 Custer; Harry Jackson Coon, Balboa; William Stanley Lineberger, 519 East Fourth.

Alternates—Frank E. Freeman, 925 Orange avenue; Harold Talmadge Holzgrafe, 2117 Santiago; Raymond Navaroe, Yorba.

The first name on the list is that of Floyd H. Mitchell, who has already made one trip to Camp Lewis. He was sent there with a contingent last fall, but was rejected on account of his eyes. Mitchell has set his heart on entering the service, and he has tried in a number of ways to get in. He has had a course of treatment given his eyes, and tests at headquarters here show that they are now in such shape that he can pass the test. Mitchell is elated.

FOUR MEN ARE SCHEDULED FOR THE TANK CORPS

Orange county district No. 1 has already given induction papers for four men of draft age who want to go into the tank corps. This morning two of the five, Charles Wallace and Dale M. Bay, both of Orange, started from Santa Ana for Ft. McDowell, from which place they will go to Camp Colt, Gettysburg, Pa., where the tank training camp has been established.

Two other men have enlisted in the tank corps, and are due to go next Tuesday. They are George W. Carey, 721 West Fifth street, employed at the Ford garage, and Robert R. Grove, 906 East Walnut.

JOHN FRED ELTISTE GOES TO MECHANIC SCHOOL

Orders were received at local draft headquarters today to send a man to Los Angeles to go to the government mechanical school to take the place of Leonard Finch of Orange. John Fred Eltiste of Orange has been selected for this assignment. Finch entered the school about a month ago, but was later disqualified upon physical grounds.

EXAMINING PHYSICIANS ARE GIVEN AN INTERVIEW

Yesterday the members of the local exemption board, Chief Clerk Over-shiner, Richard Melrose of Anaheim, Chief Clerk Gobar of Fullerton and Drs. Truxaw, Gobar, Beebe, Dobson, Royer, Cushman, Clark and Domann, who have been examiners to determine physical qualifications of drafted men, were given a talk by Lieutenant Shieck of the adjutant general's office.

Lieutenant Shieck was accompanied here by Dr. Dillon, operating surgeon for the medical advisory board in Los Angeles. All of the local boards are being visited by Lieutenant Shieck, who is endeavoring to point out factors that go to making up rejections of men sent to army camps. He pointed out why a man's hearing is essential.

"Suppose men were strung out in No Man's Land, and word was passed along in a whisper," said he, "and in the line was a man with defective hearing. His inability to get and transmit that message to the man next to him might cost the lives of fifty men down the line from him."

Many of the technical details for rejections were reviewed. While the percentage of rejections of men sent by the local boards is small, it is believed that the visit of the lieutenant will result in fewer rejections hereafter.

THREE MEN ARE SUGGESTED FOR CHANGE TO CLASS 2

As a result of a hearing before Clyde Bishop, government agent, last night recommendations are made for changing the classifications of three men. It is recommended that Glenn A. Beltz, Santa Ana R. D. 4, be changed from class 4 to class 2; Harry C. Brown, 209 West Camille, class 4 to 2; Arthur E. Confer, 1325 Logan, class 3 to 2. George M. Audrich is recommended for remaining in class 4.

WOODMAN URGES STEPHENS BE RETURNED TO SACRAMENTO

Every Reason in the World to Re-elect Him Governor, Says L. A. Mayor

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—Mayor F. T. Woodman of Los Angeles has come out flatfooted for Governor William B. Stephens. In a statement Mayor Woodman enumerates several strong reasons why Governor Stephens should have the solid support of the people of the entire state of California at the primaries and be returned to the chief executive's chair at Sacramento.

Here is Mayor Woodman's statement:

"Governor Stephens should be the unquestioned choice of the Republican party at the coming primaries. This means more to California than many people realize.

"We do not draw divisional lines, nor do we wish to array the south against the north; but one of the most difficult conditions with which I have had to contend in governmental affairs is combating the idea that the political fabric of the state centers in San Francisco. Government officials assume, and they have a right to assume, with two senators chosen from that city, that it must necessarily be the center of political activities. As a result, the officials representing the central government are largely chosen from the bay districts.

"Should we of the rest of the state also choose a governor from San Francisco, what excuse would we have for expecting further representation for this section at the hands of the National Government?

"Governor Stephens was appointed to the executive chair, and in accepting that position, resigned his seat in Congress. I have not as yet heard one single substantiated statement why he ought not to be elected.

"He has filled the executive chair well. His congressional experience is of the utmost value to the state. He has visited every section, met its people, and ascertained their needs. He has conclusively proven that he is the Governor of the entire state, and not of any section.

"Under these conditions the American spirit of fair play will give to Governor Stephens a majority of the Republican vote on the 27th of this month.

"Since Governor Stephens assumed the executive office this nation has been plunged into the greatest war the world has ever known.

"Governor Stephens immediately grasped the war problem that confronted him, organized a defensive policy, commenced a program for the conservation of our natural resources, placed California where she has met every demand occasioned by the war, and received the highest commendation from the Washington authorities.

"It would be the height of absurdity, and the worst kind of political or business judgment, for a moment, think of replacing an executive who in this chaotic condition of the world's affairs has the reins of government so well in hand.

"The people of California are not people who do business that way. The result is, they will return Governor Stephens to the executive chair."

SCIENTISTS AID ALL IN SERVICE

Welfare Work In Forty-Five Army and Navy Concentration Centers

Christian Science camp welfare work is now being carried on in forty-five army and navy camps in the United States under direction of the Christian Science War Relief and Camp Welfare Committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. There are at present about seventy men and fifteen women engaged in this work, the women serving mainly as welfare room attendants.

Conducted at first independently, the camp welfare work has been merged with the war relief work which the Christian Scientists were doing in foreign countries before the United States entered the war. For both these purposes about one million dollars have been raised.

The aim of the Christian Science Camp workers is to be as helpful as possible to all the men in the camps, whether or not they are Christian Scientists, and particularly to give assistance which may not be available at the time or place through any of the other camp welfare agencies.—Boston Advertiser.

CUT NEWBERT'S TAX RATE BY SIXTY CENTS

The Newbert Protection District will have a tax rate of about $3.50 this year as against $4.10 last year.

Today County Auditor Jerome received from the directors of the district a request for a tax rate that will raise $43,600 for the district, to be apportioned as follows: Interest on bonds, $10,545; repairs, $26,255; incidentals, $2,000; pay bonds, $4,800; total, $43,600.

The total valuation under the assessor's figures this year is $1,244,805. Last year the assessed valuation was $1,191,360, and the amount raised was $47,500. With the request for a smaller amount this year, Jerome says that a cut of sixty cents can be made in the tax rate.

The rate for Talbert Drainage District will remain about the same as last year when it was $2.70 on a valuation of $619,745, and $16,375 raised. This year the valuation is $614,035 and there is $16,000 to be raised.

Garden Grove Storm Water District with assessed valuation of $1,052,225 is asking for $5,000.

TELLS OF HIS TRIP ACROSS ATLANTIC

Letter Is Received From Santa Anan on His Way to France

Something of the pastimes of soldiers crossing the Atlantic is given in a letter received recently by S. R. Gittins of 513½ North Main street from his son, Lyman Gittins, who is in an engineer regiment.

Extracts from the letter follow:

Somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean, B. Co. 316 Engineers, A. E. F., July, 1918.

Dear Father:

"I am writing on board ship; this makes the eighth day on the briny. Today was Sunday; the chaplain gave us a short talk and we had some music. There is quite a lot of talent in a musical line on board. We have a violin player, two saxophone players, one trombone, one cornet, one banjo, mandolin, guitar and we have our regular concerts every evening between 6 and 8:30; also there is quite a lot of boxing. This boat is and was intended for a meat boat. They allow no lights between sunset and sunrise.

The other day we had our first target practice with ship's guns. One fellow got so excited he cut his shoe-string; another fellow threw his life belt over. We have had our life belts on since we got out of —; have not seen any sub yet. The ocean has been a dark blue until today it was green, so we decided we must be close to Ireland.

"The weather has been wonderfully fine the first part of the trip. We just had enough breeze to be pleasant. Sometimes it was a trifle too hot on deck for comfort but the last couple of days it has been very windy and cold. Of course you know we all sleep in hammocks hung up to the ceiling.

"I was on guard night before last. It was so dark you couldn't see your hand before your face. Another soldier and myself started from the forward part of the ship to go to our quarters which were in the aft. He was in front to start with but I got ahead of him somewhere on the way. He ran into the Officer of the Day, thought it was me, grabbed him by the arm and wanted to know what his hurry was.

I haven't had my clothes off on the trip yet, that is, all of them, only to bathe. We have salt water showers but they aren't any good for anything but just to freshen you up. You can't get clean with it. The first three or four days lots of the fellows went barefooted and some took off all their looches but their overalls, but we are all well dressed now, thought we must have run into the polar regions this morning, but it isn't quite so cold this afternoon.

I haven't seen any sharks or whales; guess there isn't much going on in this part of the ocean. Did I tell you about seeing Coney Island, Brooklyn bridge nd statue of Liberty? I also went up the Woolworth tower; it certainly was some sight from the tower. Coney Island is just like a big Venice. Paisesades part over by Hoboken is a wonderful place; has all kinds of amusements. The people of New York seemed very friendly in giving directions how to get to different places. We went along the elevated railway for about forty blocks and every building seemed to be a tailor shop, all Jews, Well, Pa, I guess I will close and will write you more when we get settled in our new quarters.

From your son, Lyman.

"If I am elected Governor of this State, I shall use every power at my command to abolish all unnecessary commissions, to reduce in number the necessary commissions by a process of consolidation and co-ordination, and to strip such as remain of all dead or useless timber, and to reduce the expense of maintaining same to the last degree."—Thomas Lee Woolwine.

GUNS CAPTURED BY YANKS ARE TURNED ON GERMANS

Americans Still Harass Enemy North of Vesle; Fail to Take Heights

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 12. (Night)—The Americans continue to harass the Germans north of the Vesle, varying heavy artillery bombardments with lightning-like thrusts into the enemy line. There was some infantry fighting on the right wing of the American sector last night, but this morning they were practically unbothered save for a German feint which failed to develop into an attack.

The doughboys attempted to storm the German positions on the heights north of the river last night but could not maintain their gains on account of the heavy machine gun fire. This was the second attack of the day, the Americans going over the top from sector last night, but this morning advancing north of Fismette, they drove the boches from a wood, capturing machine guns, which they turned on the fleeing enemy. The Germans later counter attacked and drove the Americans from the wood. Yesterday the Americans captured thirty machine guns from a German stronghold at Chateau Diable. They brought them back and used them against the Germans until they ran out of ammunition. Then they dispatched a detachment of infantry to gather in some German machine gun ammunition from the rear areas. They now have sufficient to keep the guns going until they capture a new supply.

The German positions are still held by Prussian troops, mostly machine gun companies. They prevent much hand to hand fighting.

ANNA HELD

Famous Actress Dies From Pneumonia Attack After Long Fight For Life

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Anna Held, famous actress and stage favorite of many lands, died here yesterday afternoon at 5:22 o'clock, following an hour's fight for life after a five-minute period of suspended animation.

"Kiss me, Lane," were her last spoken words, whispered on Saturday to her young daughter. Immediately after the farewell kiss, received with a brave smile, Miss Held lapsed into unconsciousness, from which she never recovered.

"It is the end," said Dr. Overton, shortly before four o'clock yesterday when the actress ceased to breathe. He drew a blanket over her and advised sending for an undertaker.

Five minutes later, as he stood consoling Miss Held's daughter, the blanket was seen to stir slightly. Drawing it hastily aside, Dr. Overton discovered that respiration had been resumed. For upward of an hour the physician and the attending nurses strove to revive the patient, but she succumbed to the pneumonia which succeeded her long fight against the ravages of myeloma, the rare bone disease with which she was stricken nearly six months ago.

MASON DROPS DEAD LONG BEACH TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 13.—A well dressed man, wearing a "Masonic" ring and carrying a key to room 434, Hotel Alexander, Long Beach, was found dead on the street here early today. In his pocket was a card bearing the name of Mrs. John Scorie. These furnish the only clue on which the coroner has to work in his efforts at identification.

ASK READJUSTMENT OF FREIGHT RATES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Increased freight rates and express rates today were under fire for the first time since they were inaugurated on June 25. The public service commission of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, filed complaints against the railroad administration and 26 lines of railroads asking a readjustment of transcontinental rates on fruits, berries and vegetables.

The complaint also was filed against the American Railway Express company, asking a readjustment of the present express rates.

Thousands of fruit and vegetable producers are suffering losses as a result of the increased rates, the complaint states. It complains that the express and freight rates have displaced the western fruit growers in the markets east of the Mississippi. They have been forced to market their produce cheaper than formerly in order to compete with other fruits and vegetable producing territories, according to the complaint.

ALL PRECAUTION TAKEN TO STOP DAMAGE FROM SUBMARINES

U-Boats Appear to Be Operating From New England South to Carolinas

AN ATLANTIC PORT Aug. 13.—The fishing schooner Acushla arrived here today with fourteen men from the fishing vessels Progress, Starbuck, and Helena May, all sunk by a submarine off George's Bank. The men were picked up eighty miles southeast of Cape Cod.

The crew of the schooner Mary A. Sennett, which was brought into this port, told of the sinking of the schooners Old Timer and Cruiser. They declared the crews of these vessels were shelled when they left their ships and probably were killed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—German U-boats now appear to be operating all along the Atlantic coast.

From New England to the Carolinas, the sea scavengers are exacting the toll of fishing smacks and other small vessels and have even gassed a light-house.

The navy department today added another victim in the Norwegian steamer Sonorstad, torpedoed off Fire Island yesterday morning.

The navy is taking all measures to meet the spectacular terrorist efforts of German U-boat commanders. Thus far, however, there is no direct evidence that any of the enemy submarines have been sunk. There is some cause to believe that a destroyer which had a brush with one of them disposed of it.

Secretary Daniels today stated that all possible precautions have been taken to protect coast stations from further gas attacks by German submarines. Asked whether gas masks had been issued, Daniels said:

"Oh, yes; we are doing all those things."

The Sonorstad, it was later revealed, was sunk only 25 miles off Fire Island.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The navy department was informed today that the Norwegian steamer Sonorstad was sunk off Fire Island yesterday morning by a German submarine. Members of the crew have been landed at an Atlantic port.

SIX INJURED, BUT NONE FATAL, BY GERMAN GAS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Gassing of an American lighthouse by a German submarine confirmed expectations of naval officials here today that the Germans sooner or later would make some spectacular work on the coast. No military advantage can result from such attacks as the one against the Smith Island light off the North Carolina coast Sunday but the Germans evidently hoped to terrorize by such methods. Sinking of fishing ships off the New England coast is part of this campaign of frightfulness.

In making their gas attack on the Smith Island lighthouse, which injured six men, none fatally, the Germans are believed to have used a new form of mustard gas. Official reports to the navy department state that three large oil spots, each over an acre in extent, were observed and it is believed the gas was generated from this oil. The attack lasted nearly an hour.

SANTA ANA BOYS ARRIVE SAFELY OVER THERE

W. H. St. Clair Writes Wife Of His Safe Arrival In France

Mrs. W. H. St. Clair, Jr., is in receipt of a letter from her husband announcing his safe arrival "over there." It perhaps is the first to reach this city from Santa Ana boys of the 26th at Camp Lewis who recently went overseas. Among other Santa Ana boys in the 364 Supply Company with St. Clair are George Platt, Bob Collins, Robert Bruce, L. A. Stevens and Charles Getty. Dated "Somewhere in England," July 19, the letter reads, in part, as follows:

"Arrived all O. K. and never saw one sub. I don't think there are many left. Had a fine trip—not one bit sick. We were on a very large boat but it did not rock much. This is a pretty country, but won't get to see much of it, as we will be in some camp in France in a very few days. We were on the way just one week. All the boys you know are well. Here is a little greeting written by the King of England (copy of the letter of King George written last April welcoming Sammies on their way to the battle front) and we all get one. Be sure and put it in a safe place."

A postcard written on July 22, advises Mrs. St. Clair that her husband had reached France.

MAKING BEAN HONEY
OXNARD, Aug. 13.—Hundreds of colonies of bees are to be seen throughout the bean fields of the county. Heretofore the bees have paid little attention to the bean fields as a source of honey, but the scarcity of sugar and increased price of honey is causing them to make use of every available honey supply, and to move the colonies to the best locations.

WOULD PREVENT STRIKES AND 'LOAFING'

Work-or-Fight Amendment May Be Included In New Man-Power Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The senate military committee today agreed to a work or fight amendment to the new army manpower bill. It also accepted an amendment providing for the further education of persons under 21 who may be drafted into the service.

The work or fight amendment provides that when any person shall have been placed in a deferred class for industrial reasons, he shall not be entitled to retain his classification unless he shall continue to work at his regular occupation.

The educational amendment provides that soldiers after their discharge from the army may receive at government expense, two years' education if they choose, providing they were under 21 when they went into the service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—A work or fight amendment designed to prevent war time strikes and too much loafing on the job will be considered when work on the new man power bill is resumed.

The committee expected to complete its labors today. In any event the bill will be ready for presentation when the senate meets Thursday. At that time an attempt will be made to call senators back for a regular session Monday for consideration of the bill.

The draft ages of 18 to 45 will stand so far as the committee is concerned. A fight may develop on the floor. Even there it is believed the frank statements of General Crowder and General March have done much to allay objection to drafting men under 21.

More objection to lowering the draft age is expected to develop in the house than in the senate. But the bill is an administration measure and thus far most of the opposition to such bills has resulted in vast talk but comparatively few votes.

"Big army" men on the Republican side have favored lowering the ages from the start and may be depended on to support this measure to the limit.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Aug. 13.—That Otto Rozell was hit in the shoulder by shrapnel in a battle July 21 and that his wound was not then regarded as serious, was the news contained in a letter received by his father, Charles Rozell, Saturday afternoon from F. J. Pratt.

Pratt, in charge of a Y. M. C. A. hut near the front line trenches, saw Rozell when he was brought into a base hospital just back of the lines on the night of July 21. Otto's wound was not regarded as serious and he appeared cheerful, sending word to his parents not to worry about him.

The Y. M. C. A. man wrote the next day, as he was about to leave for another part of the front. He stated that he would not see Rozell again but was confident he would recover as he was getting the best of care. He had taken a strong liking to the wounded boy and asked to be kept informed of the outcome of his wound.

According to the casualty list and the message from marine headquarters to the parents here, Otto's death took place seven days after he was hit. Since receiving the letter from the Y. M. C. A. man saying that the wound was not serious and that Otto's recovery seemed certain, the parents are clinging to a last straw of hope that his name may have been wrongly listed among the great mass of casualties being handled by the war and navy departments at the time. They will wait anxiously for the customary detailed report obtained by the Red Cross, which is expected within several weeks.

Although no mention of location is contained in any news received here, it is probable that Otto Rozell was wounded in the fighting a short distance north of Chateau Thierry. The marines were known to be on the left side of the "Marne pocket" and the allied lines on July 21 were pressing the Germans back in the region of Grisselles, several miles north of Chateau Thierry.

YOU'VE SAID SOMETHING, CAPTAIN

If Capt. John D. Fredericks had been able to put up as good an argument in behalf of his own candidacy for governor four years ago as he now offers in support of the re-election of Governor Stephens, he would, undoubtedly, have received more votes than he did.

Declaring that Governor Stephens has made a magnificent record in the short time he has been in office and that this alone entitles him to the support of the Republican party, Captain Fredericks has warmly endorsed the governor's candidacy to succeed himself.

"I have given extended consideration to the subject of the Republican nominee for governor," says Captain Fredericks, "and have come to the conclusion that Governor Stephens is the logical and feasible candidate.

"I do not believe there is a serious principle of government that now divides the factions of the party. It is not, therefore, suggested that anyone sacrifice any question of principle.

"In practically every test of strength within the party in this state in the past ten years, the faction of the party with which Governor Stephens has affiliated has carried the majority, and at the recent selection of the State Republican Committee won complete control of the party management.

"Again Governor Stephens is the only candidate of that faction, and the other faction has several candidates. It therefore seems logical that the party should unite on the one candidate who represents the majority faction rather than ask that majority faction to unite on one of the several candidates from the minority faction, when the minority faction cannot itself unite on one of its own number.

"I am convinced that Governor Stephens has made a magnificent record in the short time he has been governor and is entitled on that alone to the consideration of the party."

BREAKING GERMAN MORALE

"The Marne defeat has produced unspeakable scenes of despair in Berlin," says the Berlin Tageblatt. "Such outbreaks of utter discouragement and downheartedness never before were witnessed."

German today is torn by wild rumors of all sort of trouble and disaster. The Frankische Tagepost takes pains to rebuke the people for believing and repeating rumors that Hindenburg and the kaiser have been assassinated, that Hindenburg has been killed by the crown prince in a duel, and other yarns equally sensational. The government finds it necessary to threaten severe penalties for the spread of such tales.

A letter written to his wife by a captured German prisoner says: "The war is hopeless for us, now that we are opposed to these ferocious Americans, who cannot be defeated."

The heaven is working. The German people can endure hunger, disease, bereavement, but they cannot endure defeat added to their other miseries. The army still fights well, though less effectively than before; the civil population, as the bad news filters through, is reduced to despair.

We have done more than defeat a large part of the German army. We have dealt German morale the worst blow it ever received.

GERMAN FINANCE

The German war debt is now so large that all the money raised by taxation does not suffice to pay the interest on it. The German financial situation, therefore, is plain enough. Just figure out what happens to any business institution when it hasn't enough income to pay the interest on the money it owes.

The imperial ring of freebooters in Berlin worked out a very simple solution to the problem. They were going to make their enemies pay off the principal, in the form of a whopping big indemnity. At present, even the imaginative kaiser is probably beginning to class that indemnity along with the core in the small boy's apple.

We shed a sympathetic tear for all who have bought German war bonds—mostly deluded German subjects, of course—and vaguely wonder who will lend Germany any money after the show-down.

Patriotizing

By Booth Tarkington of The Vigilantes

"When the German-Americans, as we call them, found that our country was in the war, they erased the hyphen. . . . In our country there are only American citizens." I quote the above from a recent article issued by the "Vigilantes," and I believe the facts to be virtually as stated. But if they were not, and if the hyphen did actually here and there remain alive, would not the most sensible policy treat it as dead, and at least assume it to be dead, wherever it showed no virulent signs of life? In other words, men cannot be goaded into loyalty; they only accumulate a sense of injury under the goad. And it was never more important than at this present time that we should avoid injustice to any citizen. Suspicion, rumor, and coincidence of circumstance should influence neither our judgments nor our actions; much less should we vent our passion against Germany upon the person of him whom we called the German-American.

I speak from the standpoint of one who bitterly opposed the German-American position on the war prior to the American entrance, April, 1917. But the sympathy of the German-American with the German cause, prior to that date, if rightly comprehended, does not imply a sympathy continuing beyond that date, though to many minds this is either an impossible paradox or a symptom of credulity imposed upon by almost barefaced hypocrisy. It is neither. The German-American, beholding a war between Germany and the Allies, sided with Germany. He had not been alienated from Germany, as the rest of us had been alienated (by the Revolutionary war) from England. He saw merely a contest between foreign powers and sided with that from which he sprang. But when his own country came to actual war with Germany, the German-American found himself to be an American. Nevertheless, it is hard for him to show his patriotism when we say to him: "Now, you dirty German-American, drop your tricks and speak up! Repeat these words in a loud shout, 'I am an American and I love the flag,' and if you don't shout loud enough we'll kick you, and maybe we'll kick you anyhow!" Such instruction does not seem quite statesmanlike, or over-Christianlike, either.

Margaret Deland, lately returned from France, says that over there, not long ago, a company of German prisoners, just captured, were being sent back from the front, when they encountered an American regiment, largely from Wisconsin, moving up to the trenches. Many of the Wisconsin troops were of German origin; some among them, indeed, could hardly speak English, and the prisoners were astonished to be greeted noisily and garrulously in their own tongue. They were even more astonished at the nature of the comments which these strange Germans from America made upon them. In fact, the episode was unamiable. Oaths in the German tongue were frequent and intensive. The German-speaking men of the Wisconsin regiment cursed the captured German soldiers with an inexpressible frankness very shocking to the prisoners, who had been passed in silence by other American regiments, and had received cigarettes from a battalion of English. Words like "dummkopf" and "schweinhund" were employed, with prophetic epithets; and the general sense of what the Wisconsin men said to the German cousins was as follows: "You dash-blanked jackasses and idiots, we and our fathers left your old Fatherland and went four thousand miles to live in a better place. Now we have to come all the way back, four thousand miles again yet, to slaughter you, because you haven't got any more sense than to believe and obey that old pigdog of a kaiser! We'll send your kaiser and princes to sheol, where they can't do any more harm; and as for you, dunderheads, you ought to be hanged for making us all this trouble of coming over here to teach you some sense with our bayonets!"

The citizens once called German-Americans will work out their own salvation if we do not make it too hard for them. What man can show enthusiasm for anything, when he is threatened with punishment if he is not enthusiastic? Loyalty is a feeling; it is not a spoken word. You cannot possibly produce a beautiful feeling in any man by threatening him or prosecuting him. Let us not threaten at all, and let us prosecute only when we have evidence. Is it certain evidence that a man is loyal if he have a son in the American army? No. There were Rebels in '63 who had sons in the northern armies. Is it certain evidence that a man is disloyal if he have a son in the German army? No. There were loyal Union men in '64 who had sons fighting for the south. So it may be now. There are American citizens who have relatives in the German army and other relatives in the American army. Here and there is an American citizen who has one son in the American army and another son in the German army. Let us go gently with a fellow citizen who finds himself in such a position. It is a hard enough one, without the additional burden of his neighbor's suspicions. If his conduct be loyal, then in heaven's name let us believe him loyal.

The finest answer Germany has had from any source is the loyalty of the "German-Americans" to America; and that was the answer of all most gallant to Germany. Let us not punish them—now, when their boys are dying in the American cause—let us not punish them for sins that are not theirs. Let us not patrioteer at their expense. Let us not patrioteer at all. The war is too serious for patrioteering.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 Miss Callie Yankem—A maiden lady—Over on the next street—Came over last night—To pick a fuss—About what I said—About picnics—

 And she said—I must be pretty crusty—To pick so many flaws—With such a beautiful—Social custom—

 And she said—Picnics give people—Such a good chance—To commune with nature—And to mingle—

 And I told her—I didn't care—How much people mingle—Just so they didn't—Mingle the grub too much—

 And I told her—When I was—A little shaver—I liked picnics—Until one time—We went to Tulare lake—

 And we had—A lot of fun—Getting our feet wet—And getting scratched—On the barbed wire fence—And everything—

 And then we—Spread our dinner—On the ground—And invited all the insects—To go to it—

 And Uncle Jasper Pinkham—Had a slice of bread—With sugar on it—And a fly—Kept lighting on it—

 And Uncle Jasper—Was an awful talker—And didn't pay—Much attention—To what he was doing—

 And that fly—Would parade around—On his bread—And he would talk—And start to—Take a bite—

 And the fly—Would get away—Just in time—To save its neck—And then it would—Settle down again—

 And they kept it up—Until Uncle Jasper—Ate all his bread—And the fly—Didn't have any—Place to roost—And it lit—On the butter—And couldn't get off—

 And I spent—So much time—Watching Uncle Jasper—And the fly—That I didn't—Get much dinner—And I didn't care—Because I didn't feel—Much like eating anyhow—By Bud.

POLITICAL PERISCOPE

Two weeks from today the roosters will crow and the cows will get up off the ground and stand around waiting to be milked. The man who gets up before breakfast to chop wood and disturb the slumbers of his neighbors will get up as usual and make more noise than usual. There'll be bean harvesters on the go, and somebody is going to get out of bed to slap some cold cream on sunburned shoulders, and several anxious candidates will finish a restless night.

No wonder that night is destined to be restless, for upon that day, two weeks from today, fate will write in votes. Totals will be piled up, and several dream houses will be hit in the middle and spilled. Two weeks from today is election day, Aug. 27, the fateful August primaries.

And nobody knows much more about what the result is going to be than they did two weeks ago. There are a good many people that say there has been a decided trend in the fight for sheriff, and there is little question but that that fight for sheriff is the fight about which is centered more interest than about any other of the events on the primaries card. But those who say there has been a decided trend will admit that there is so much of uncertainty about the vote and the kind of vote and the geography of the vote that will be cast on Aug. 27 that even the most sagacious guesser is likely to find himself afloat all alone on a wide, wide sea without any oars and no port in sight.

Most of the wise ones are predicting a light vote, and there is good argument for the prediction. There are few county contests, and only two super-visorial scraps, those two being in the two districts casting the lightest votes. The one factor that will tend to bring out a vote is the wet and dry phase of the contest for governor and lieutenant governor.

The wet and dry question is one that can always muster a deep interest in Orange county. If it was up for a vote as to whether or not Old Saddleback should go dry or remain dry, even the squirrels would turn out to vote. That wet and dry question is tangled and twined around the candidacies for governor and lieutenant-governor for the reason that those officers can be the leaders in putting California on the map as a state voting for the national prohibition amendment.

Governor Stephens for governor and Young for lieutenant-governor have the endorsement of the State Dry Federation, and some good work has been done in Orange county among the dry forces for those candidates, particularly for Gov. Stephens.

Not only on account of his attitude on the dry question, but for many other reasons as well, Gov. Stephens, our war governor, has a strong support in this county. No one questions his ability to carry away the lead vote. In fact, if a periscope has any virtue at all as a gather-in of impressions the prediction that he will get more votes than all of the other Republican candidates combined is safe.

There was a spurge of interest stirred up last week in the three-cornered race for justice of the peace of Santa Ana township. John Clarkson put a piece in the paper saying the justice ought to be an attorney-at-law and that justice court juries ought to be given instructions.

Justice Cox got up early in the morning and wrote a declaration in reply, saying nobody wants justice juries instructed and justice court only has a jury once in three months anyhow, and that was put in the paper too. Then Ben Brown, candidate for justice, had his picture put in the Register and the justice contest was thus quite fully introduced to the public of Santa Ana township. There are three candidates running for this job, position, office, or whatever it is. If one of them gets a majority of all the votes cast at the primaries, he wins right then and there.

BREEZY NEWS NOTES OF HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 12.—

Mrs. Flora B. Matteson and Mrs. Winifred Carr of San Bernardino attended services at the M. E. church Sunday morning. The sermon was delivered by William Whitfield of Phoenix, Ariz., from the text Deut. 32:11, "As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings."

W. H. Helms and family of Riverside are spending a few days' vacation at the beach and trying their luck fishing.

L. Buehler and family of Redlands have rented the cottage at 524 Ninth street and will spend a week at the beach recuperating.

Sunday evening Dr. Cobb of Los Angeles finished his series of stereopticon lectures at the Baptist church on Jerusalem and the Holy Land. These lectures the past week have been a continuation of the series delivered here some weeks ago and were very interesting and instructive.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will give a dinner on Tuesday at the church parlors, to be served in cafeteria style.

Walter Waite and family have moved to Balboa, where Mr. Waite has a position with the shipbuilding company.

Fred Ott left Sunday for San Diego, where he will enter the service of Uncle Sam and help to knock out the Hun.

SCHOOL BIDS TOO HIGH; BUILDING IS BLOCKED

FULLERTON, Aug. 13.—The board of trustees of the Fullerton Union High School has gone up against the same difficulty that the trustees of the grammar school found in calling for bids for a new building. That is that all bids were too high for the amount appropriated.

The high school board called for proposals for the proposed manual arts building, which was estimated to cost somewhere about $25,000 and expected that the bids would not exceed that amount to any great extent.

Imagine the board's surprise Friday afternoon when four bids were received and the lowest bidder wanted $35,299 for the job complete. This is only $11,000 in excess of the estimate.

INTERESTING WEDDING

Miss Nona Falk, Houston, Tex., Robert Carr, Berkeley, Wed at Friends' Home

An interesting wedding ceremony was solemnized yesterday at high noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosen on South Broadway, when Miss Nona Falk of Houston, Texas, and Robert Carr, an instructor at the government aviation school at Berkeley, were united in marriage by Rev. F. G. Davies of the First Baptist church. Sixteen relatives and close friends witnessed the nuptials.

As the bridal couple entered, Miss Mary Harris played Lohengrin's Wedding March and during the reading of the marriage lines softly played McDowell's "To a Water Lily." The bride was charming in a natty tailored suit of brown and white and wore an exquisite corsage of orchids.

The home was beautifully decorated for the happy occasion, trailing ferns starred with Maman Cochet buds winding about the doors, windows and picture rail and artistically arranged in the archway where the bride party stood while the vows were pledged. Large clusters of the lovely roses were placed in effective positions.

The bride cut the wedding cake and dainty refreshments were served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Carr went to Los Angeles for a brief honeymoon, before going to Berkeley to reside.

Annual Missionary Picnic
The First Presbyterian Church Missionary Society will hold its annual picnic meeting at the home of Mrs. H. S. Gordon, 402 Cypress avenue, Wednesday, August 14. The morning session begins at 10 o'clock, the afternoon session at 1:30. Dr. M. Maud Allen of Ferozepur, India, also one of the young people, Miss Estelle Danila, who expects to leave in September for Valparaiso, Chile, will be present.

Newcomers are especially urged to be present that all may avail themselves of the social hour in which they will be better acquainted. Bring basket lunch. Bring your own dishes, silver and sugar. Coffee will be furnished.

Those who can attend only the afternoon service are urged to be there promptly as Dr. Allen begins speaking at 1:30.

A missionary meeting will be held at the Christian church tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. J. J. Williams will be leader and there will be a report of the Long Beach convention.

LEMON JUICE
TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle and tan lotion, and a complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Adv.

NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

Raymond Dickinson, of the Santa Ana Transfer Co., who is now in the navy and located at the camp at Pelham Bay, New York, writes a member of the Register staff that he had the pleasure of meeting a number of Santa Ana boys at Coney Island, Saturday evening, Aug. 3. Among them were "Buck" Fipps, William Burge, A. Buchheim and Jimmie Jamar. He expected to meet his brother, Eugene, at Camp Mills, a little later. At the time of writing he was attempting to get into the paymaster's department of the navy. His address is Pelham Bay, N. Y., Reg. 12 barracks.

HAS APPROVAL OF

Regulation Garbage Cans or Arrest, Edict Of the City Council

Any householder of the city of Santa Ana who has not and who does not provide a regulation garbage can for his premises will be liable to arrest under action taken by the city council last night. The sanitary inspector was authorized to visit every householder where the proper cans are not provided to notify that owner that he must provide such receptacle or take the consequences. A committee was appointed to investigate as to what can be done with reference to making temporary arrangements for handling the garbage and report at the meeting next Monday evening.

Bondsmen for Eyraud Bros., garbage contractors, failed to make their appearance last night under citation of the council to appear for a conference on the situation now obtaining in this city with reference to garbage collection. At the meeting of the council a week ago the council members expressed themselves as not being satisfied with the manner in which the contract is being carried out and authorized the city attorney to inform the bondsmen that it was intended to remove the present sub-contractor.

City Attorney Scott read a copy of the letter he had sent to the bonding company and said that he had received no reply.

McPhee wanted action. "From time to time during the past two years this board has had to take notice of the condition obtaining by reason of the failure of the contractor to live up to his contract," said McPhee. "I am one of the board who have called sub-contractor Tate before the board for explanation. He has made plausible excuses, and we have given him time to remedy evils complained of. The service has not improved. The whole community is crying against the service. We have required bonds for the purpose of guaranteeing the performance of the contract. I am ready to go to bat—no more excuses will go, so far as I am concerned. The sanitary inspector tells me that Tate told him only today that he didn't know that the city had anything more on him than he had on the city."

"The work is not being done and I am ready to order on more teams and hold the bondsmen responsible."

Visel—"I agree with you. It is time we were properly taking care of the garbage of the city."

City Attorney Scott advised that the bond was perfectly good and that the city could either advertise for new bids, and arrange temporarily for the work, or it could employ teams and charge the difference as between the contract price and the cost of such work to the surety company.

Sub-contractor Tate was present and stated his position. Tate Has Troubles Too "I saw the surety company in Los Angeles today and was advised that its attorney was in New York; that it had wired him of the receipt of the letter from the city attorney, and up to 4 p. m. had not heard from him. The man with whom I talked said it would do no good for him to appear, as he would not know what course to pursue."

"The only thing that I can see where you have any complaint is that the wagons leaked. It happened that on one of the wagons, the front wheels in turning the wagon wore a hole into the tank. I have had it repaired at a cost of $28. It would have been fixed before but I could not find anyone to repair it. At the time the driver was informed by the sanitary inspector that the wagon should be repaired. I went to three different men to get it fixed. I am working at Newport, doing the work there, and working fourteen hours a day because the work is too hard for hired men. I came here one morning and made arrangements for a tinner to repair the tank. When the wagon was brought in for repair the next morning, the man informed the driver that he could not do the job. I had the same experience with two other men before I got the repairs made."

"As far as garbage collection is concerned there is no complaint that I know of. The contract was a good one when we made it. We made our living on what people threw away. We used to get $15 a bale for paper, now it is worth about $8. Rags and bottles that we used to get, the Red Cross now gets. We used to get lots of garbage—had to use large trucks to haul it away. Now one horse rig can handle it. Meat and bread have entirely disappeared from the slops. All we get is corn husks and watermelon rind. We are not getting one-fifth the swill we used to get. We are getting lots of paper napkins—and hogs don't eat them."

Cans Worse Than Wagons "We are not getting the swill from the best places on Fourth street—others are getting it. I told the council of this condition when I was before it some time ago. I was promised that something would be done to protect me against the men who come to the city and get the swill from the best restaurants. Nothing has been done. The contract provides that water shall not be thrown in garbage. It is done, and we have to haul it away—we can't dump it in the street. The wagons complained of are not as bad as the cans used by the people. The cans are not kept clean and the stench from them is worse than from the wagons. The cans are under the noses of the people seven days a week—the wagons about one minute on certain days. When we took the contract we could hire men for $40 per month. Now we pay $75 and our expense is about $400 per month. I have had different partners and they have dropped out because we couldn't make both ends meet. I would have had to drop out long ago if it had not been for the garbage at Newport Beach and the fact that I have interests at San Pedro. Ten pounds of swill will fatten one hog—50 pounds of garbage would never do it. This is the only city that I know of that requires that slop wagons be covered."

Residents Responsible Too McPhee asked Frank Grooms, who was in attendance, if he could take care of the garbage. He said he could arrange to do so in time, but not at the price the city was paying the present contractor. The matter was finally disposed of for the week by motion of McPhee referring it to a committee to investigate as to what can be done and report at the next meeting. The residents of the city have a part to play in eliminating the garbage troubles, and that by providing regulation cans for garbage. Under motion, the sanitary inspector was authorized to visit every house in the city, and where the proper receptacle is not provided, the owner notified that he must provide a regulation garbage can or suffer the consequences. Nothing to Cut W. L. Deimling, local manager of the Southern California Edison company, called before the board to inform it as to what effect the elimination of street lighting under the fuel administration regulations would have on the city bill, advised the board that the street lighting would not be interfered with at all. Instructions received subsequent to the first regulations sent out, made it clear that it was not the intention of the administration to interfere with the lighting system as obtaining in this city. It aimed at only other cities where cluster ornamental lights were in use. Deimling said, however, that should the lights here be curtailed the company undoubtedly would make a deduction from the city bill. Tubbs touched on the proposed increase in rates, the company now having an application before the Railroad Commission for permission to increase its rates. Tubbs—"The city has a five-year street lighting contract with the company—would the granting of increased rates by the commission affect our rate?" Deimling—"I couldn't tell; that is up to the commission."

Tubbs—"Can the commission break our contract?" Deimling—"Under an amendment, the commission is given full control over public utilities."

Tubbs—"Is the commission above the supreme court?" Deimling—"I don't know; I presume not."

City Attorney Scott advised that the commission had complete power to fix rates, but that an appeal could be taken to the courts on error. Deimling was quizzed on many points in connection with electric lighting in the city, the councilmen having many points they wanted cleared up.

Tubbs took occasion to bring up the condition existing on South Ross street, where Walter J. Ferris has been unable to secure lighting service for his residence. It would cost the company about $100 to run a wire for the one service, and the company offered to run the wire if Ferris would put up $50, the money to be returned when another service connection was run from the wire extension. Ferris took the matter up with the Railroad Commission, and its ruling was that the company's offer was just and proper and should prevail. Deimling said that acting under government instructions the company was not making extensions that were not absolutely necessary, and then only when the consumer provided all or a portion of the money needed for the extension. He said that no extensions are being made in Orange county, except where the consumer finances the work. Ferris' residence is at 730 S. Ross street.

Support Social Service League Fred Rafferty appeared before the board and asked that the city's allowance to the Social Service League be increased from $25 to $100 per month. He recited the splendid work the league is doing, and the trouble being experienced in getting subscriptions for its support because of the numerous calls on the people for war funds. A. J. Crookshank and A. N. Zerman as members of the league board, and a petition signed by about thirty-five prominent business men, supported Rafferty in his request. The request was granted.

"The cause is a most worthy one," said McPhee, "and if we can use city money for this purpose I am willing to give the league the assistance it asks for."

City Attorney Scott said that he knew of no law under which such an appropriation could be made. The $25 per month heretofore given has been under the guise of a salary to the secretary of the league as a special police officer.

Tubbs to Scott—"Could the secretary be put on the payroll as a woman police officer?"

Scott—"That would be stretching it a little."

McPhee to Scott—"In case the board saw fit to make the appropriation, what would the penalty be if we were called to task by someone?"

Scott—"The sum appropriated might be collected from the trustees individually, or their bondsmen, or the trustees might be expelled from office."

McPhee—"I am willing to go on record increasing the appropriation to the amount asked, and without camouflaging it as being under the police department."

He offered a motion that the sum of $100 be appropriated to the league and the motion carried without a dissenting voice.

To Experiment with Dips

McPhee, as a member of the council committee appointed to act with a Chamber of Commerce committee to see what could be done in the way of eliminating some of the more objectionable of the many dips at street intersections in the city, reported that the committee had made investigations and had called the city engineer to its assistance to determine what should be done and the probable cost of the work.

As a result of the report McPhee and Greenleaf were appointed a committee to have the dips at Third and Sycamore and Sixth and Sycamore removed, the work to be in the nature of an experiment. If successful and not too expensive, it is probable other dips will be similarly treated.

Permit for Stage Line

A permit was authorized to the Mitchell Auto Stage Company for operation through this city. This is the line that operates Packards between Los Angeles and San Diego, and has been passing through the city for two years. Under the permit it later will take out a license for Santa Ana, when it will be permitted to pick up and discharge passengers in this city. It proposes to carry passengers between Santa Ana and San Diego, and between Santa Ana and Los Angeles, if the railroad commission will give it permission to render the latter service. Representatives of the line stated that it did not know whether the commission would grant it permission to carry between Santa Ana and Los Angeles, as the commission was inclined to protect the P. E. and other stage lines now operating between the two cities.

Must Keep Demonstrators Off Street

McPhee called the attention of the board to reports that a truck demonstrator had been left standing on Main street, between Second and Third, day and night for the past two weeks. He said that the streets were not intended for demonstration grounds for trucks or any other vehicle. Tubbs said that tractor agents also were leaving machines on the streets. McPhee said that men who had established places of business should do business in such places and not on the streets, and moved that the city marshal call the attention of dealers to the city ordinance prohibiting display of merchandise on the streets, and to notify them that they must keep their machines off the streets when there simply for the purpose of advertising or showing.

Fire Chief's Authority

Replying to a question from Tubbs as to the authority of the fire chief in ordering trash cleaned up, Scott said that the chief had authority to order removal of trash and material that increased the fire hazard, and that failure of the party notified to comply with the order made him liable to arrest.

Tubbs stated that the fire chief had reported to him that investigation had revealed large quantities of paper, excelsior and other inflammable material under stairways and in cellars in the business district. The chief was advised to issue such orders as he deemed necessary and that if they were not executed the city attorney would file information against the offenders.

Orange Sewage in City Limits

The use of Orange sewage on lands within the city limits of Santa Ana by N. H. Leonard was reported by Greenleaf. Greenleaf, McPhee, City Engineer Bonebrake and Water Superintendent Reid were appointed a committee to investigate the situation.

Flower Street Bridge

Greenleaf reported that property owners in the immediate vicinity of the Flower street bridge now building were objecting to the setting of the piers of the bridge with the line of the bridge, on the ground that damage possibly would result to property at the time of high waters. They wanted the piers built on a slant to conform to the course of the stream. Liability of the city for damages should it be proved that the bridge obstructed the stream and caused property damage was acknowledged. A motion to follow the plans as adopted was carried.

To Clear Sidewalk

Tubbs made his annual complaint against the condition of the sidewalk in front of lots on the east side of Main, just north of Seventeenth, owned by Mrs. Hamilton. The walk is covered with dirt dragged there in plowing the lots, and sunflowers have been

Packers' Costs and Profits

How much do you think it costs—

1. To dress beef, cure hides, and prepare all the numerous by-products?
2. To cool the meat for two or three days before shipment?
3. To freight it to all parts of the country in special refrigerator cars, iced daily?
4. To carry it in hundreds of branch houses, each with its refrigerating plant?
5. And to deliver it to the retailer—sweet and fresh—in less than two weeks after dressing?

Swift & Company did all this for you in 1917 at an expense of less than 2½ cents per pound of beef sold, including an average profit of ¼ of a cent a pound.

Figure for yourself how little effect this cost and profit had on prices you paid for beef steak.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

The local produce market yesterday witnessed one of the liveliest sessions this month, and all varieties of small fruits and vegetables were in good demand. The feature of the day was the high prices paid for all commodities by the early trade, consisting mostly of small dealers, grocers, middlemen and housewives, the latter buying in large quantities of pickling cucumbers and onions, paying as high as $2.50 per lug for first-class stock. The market weakened slightly in the afternoon, owing to the late arrivals of home-grown stock, but closed strong on account of the ordinary quality of the late offerings.

With the winding up of the local shipping season, white and brown onions jumped 50 cents to $1.10 per 100 pounds, and the offerings were from eastern points, and Stockton and Sacramento, and were of ordinary quality, and sold at from $2.50 to $3.00 per lug.

There has been very little change in pear prices since last week, but near-by districts are shipping stock of better quality, which is moving moderately at from $1.25 to $1.50 per lug, while Sacramento Bartlett's held steady at $3 per box.

Small early varieties of peaches have now given way to the large-size Albertas, which are arriving in sufficient quantity to supply all demands, and are selling at from $1.25 to $2.25 a lug. Cantaloupes, apples, grapes and plums were steady.

11 MORE ENLIST IN NATIONAL GUARD CO.

ADVENTIST HOST GATHERING FOR ANNUAL MEET

Advantages of Local Organization Pointed Out By Lieutenant Elliott

Lectures Will Be Illustrated With Pictures From Foreign Mission Fields

Eleven more local men signed up yesterday and last night for the National Guard company and passed the physical examination, bringing the membership to 104. Those who passed yesterday were C. L. Burge, Tony Barrios, R. C. Echols, Frank Elliott, Troy Lloyd Appelbey, Clarence Freeman, Frank Freeman, Allen Maynard, George McClellan, H. Roberts and F. R. Webster.

Eighty-two men were present for last night's drill about the courthouse square, and increasing proficiency was shown. Captain A. E. Koepsel said he has as yet received no word about Lieut. Col. Fay's coming but will announce through the Register the date for muster-in as soon as the time is definitely set. Men of the company are invited to attend the non-com's school of instruction at the courthouse Friday at 7:30 p. m.

Don't Pay, But Get Paid

"Did you notice the story about the Los Angeles organization which drills at Washington Park?" asked Lieut. Jesse Elliott this morning. "In Los Angeles they charge the men $1 each to get in the company, and dues of 25 cents a month, promising to teach the men to become non-commissioned officers, a very important part of the army."

"Now compare that plan with that which will govern the National Guard organization here. Local members are required to attend only one drill a week, they get the benefit of all regulation equipment and supplies, which the L. A. men do not get, and instead of paying for the training, they receive 25 per cent of the regular army pay for attending the drills and getting the instruction for their own benefit. If the eligible men of Santa Ana realized the benefits which they would receive from National Guard membership, this company would be flooded with applications and we might have to organize one or two more companies to accommodate them all."

DON TRAPP DIES IN FRANCE. AT FRONT WITH MARINES

IDLE HUN SHIPS MAY BE SEIZED IN SOUTH AMERICA

Born In This County. Among the First to Enlist For Service

Southern Republics Growing Weary Holding Interned Vessels So Blamed Long

Don Trapp of El Toro is dead in France. He was killed on June 16.

A telegram giving this brief information was received this morning by his father, Robert Trapp, at El Toro. The name has not yet appeared in the published casualty lists.

Don Trapp was with the marines, and he was among the first to land in France.

When the United States entered this war, Don Trapp of El Toro and his cousin, Herbert Purdy, of San Juan Capistrano, were among the first to enlist. They went to Los Angeles, and there entered the service of their country. At the time Don was but 18 years of age. The two boys were separated. Purdy went to the Philippines, and was then sent to Cuba. He is now on his way home on a furlough.

Don Trapp landed in France over a year ago. Letters have come from him and all of them have been cheerful and full of the spirit of patriotism. One of the last letters said that he was in a hospital, and that he had been there for a month. The letter did not say what the nature of his injuries or illness was. His relatives had presumed that he had recovered and was back with his company.

Don Trapp was a native son of Orange county. He was born at San Juan Capistrano, and up to the time he went on the great adventure he had always made his home at San Juan Capistrano or El Toro, where his father, two sisters and two brothers now live. His mother is dead. Recently his father has been employed on Aaron Buchheim's threshing machine. Don Trapp was well liked, of a friendly nature and generous in his impulses.

SHIPPING BOARD MAY AID L. A. HARBOR WORK

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—J. H. Rossetter of the shipping board, U. S. Senator James Phelan, Capt. Pillsbury of the Emergency Fleet Corporation and other government representatives arrived here today to study the shipping possibilities of Los Angeles harbor. If their report is favorable, extensive improvements in the line of drydocks and general shipping facilities, it is understood, will be built immediately. The government financing three-quarters of the cost of construction and private individuals furnishing the land and one-quarter of the money outlay.

GERMAN AIRSHIP IS DOWNED BY BRITISH

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A German airship was brought down in a battle off the coast of Holland Sunday in which British light naval forces and aircraft engaged German aircraft, the admiralty announced.

"A German airship was brought down in flames north of Ameland (an island in the North Sea, four miles off the Dutch coast)" the statement said. "British light forces, with aircraft accompanying, reconnoitered the west Frisian coast Sunday morning. German aircraft attacked them. Six motor boats are missing."

ENGLISH SPARROWS EAT IMPERIAL CROPS

EL CENTRO, Aug. 13.—English sparrows have suddenly become a pest in the Imperial Valley that is beginning to worry growers of milo maize. Instances have been reported where flocks of these birds have practically destroyed milo fields of considerable size.

DAWN IS CLOSING LIMIT ON BIG PICNIC

Merchants, Employes and Families to Have Day's Outing at Park

"When the cows come home."

That is the designated time for the cessation of the festivities incident to the merchants' picnic to be held at Orange County Park on Wednesday of next week. The executive committee of the picnic met last night and among other things decided that the only limit placed on the day would be the dawn of Wednesday morning. In other words the participants need not go home until they want to.

A weiner bake has been added as an evening feature, heretofore not mentioned as a part of the program. The weiners will be free, and will be provided by the committee. The committee expenses are mounting up—already have gone far beyond the funds contributed. The committee, however, is going to give the people entertainment that they have not had before. They are contracting bills and paying them will be an after consideration.

It is understood there is some misunderstanding among the employees of the business houses—some have gotten the impression that the picnic is only for the merchants and their families. The picnic has largely been brought about for the benefit of the employees and every employee in every mercantile establishment is expected to be on hand, accompanied by his family. Transportation will be arranged for those who have no private conveyance. A fleet of trucks will leave the corner of Fourth and Broadway about 9 o'clock and will continue trips to the park up to as late as 11 o'clock.

The Wednesday evening concert of the Santa Ana band will be held at the county park instead of at Birch Park, the city council last night having agreed to the change. The council has shown its hearty co-operation with the merchants by giving the city officials permission to close their offices at noon.

"Secret Stuffs" will be the order of the evening, and it is reported that some of the program will be on the cabaret order. Although denied by Sam Stein, it is said that he will appear in the garb that made him the center of attraction in a local entertainment some time ago, and that he will be among the cabaret performers. Oh, Joy! Sam doesn't weigh over 500 pounds, but he carries his weight and "shakes" his feet with ease and grace on a dance floor. His poise is perfect.

Over 200 prizes have been donated by the wholesalers and in order to get through the many events for which prizes are offered, the program will be started at 10 o'clock Wednesday forenoon. And when the program starts there will be narry an idle moment during the balance of the day. The entertainment committee has a program that means something doing every minute. And there will be between 1500 and 2000 people to entertain.

Every business house in town will close except the banks, restaurants and cigar stores. The committee did not ask the restaurants to close because they realized that there will be people left in the city who do not come under the head of merchants, who will have to eat.

A. E. White, proprietor of the Dutch Kitchen, has voluntarily offered to close his eating place and will close for the full day. "The spirit of the merchants in getting together for a day's outing at Orange County Park is a mighty good thing for the city and one that I heartily endorse and hope to enjoy," said White today. "I, for one of the eating houses of the city, will close the Dutch Kitchen all day on the day of the picnic."

The program for the day, in brief, is scheduled about as follows:

Sports program starts at 10 and continues until 12 and resumed after lunch. Lunch from 12 to 2. Dancing from 2 to 5. Weiner bake from 5 to 7. Band concert and "secret stuff," 7 to 9. Dancing from 9 "until the cows come home."

A regular jazz band will provide the music for dancing. Elks band not participating in this feature.

KLENTZ INTERESTED IN BLYTHE PROJECT

BLYTHE, Aug. 13.—Sugar beet raising with the ultimate probability of a sugar refinery in Blythe to care for the Valley product, is now being planned in the Palo Verde Valley. The movement is receiving encouragement and it is aimed to devote spare acreage, not used by cotton, for beet raising. Under present conditions, the first beet planting would be in November.

Among the cotton raisers much interested in the project is F. L. Klenz, who has a large cotton area in the valley, and who is also superintendent of the Santa Ana Sugar Company. He is preparing to send seed to all cotton growers and others interested in the new beet industry. Experts state the valley is ideally adapted to beet growing in addition to the cotton growth.

GETS DIVORCE FROM BRITISH OFFICER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Margaret Blair Dracup, born in Omaha and educated in London, today had gained a divorce from Lieutenant Atholstone Hameligh Dracup, who is with the British army in Mesopotamia. She won her divorce upon showing that as much as two years ago she had declared her intention of doing so, while living in Vancouver, B. C., declaring her husband did not support her. The couple were married in England and lived until about the time of the outbreak of the war in India.
